Antioch Hit Hard By Rain

Sewers Can't Prevent Flooding

The Antioch area had a lot of extra lakes last Thursday when it was hard hit by rain.

A total of 2.51 inches fell on Antioch and Lake Villa in a 24-hour period.

Residents showed up at the village board meeting Monday night and complained about the flooding. They came from Oakwood Knolls and Village Green.

They were told by Village Engineer Frank Angelotti that the size of the new storm sewer was adequate, and that regardless of its size there would have been problems with such a heavy rainfall.

If it hadn't been for the storm sewer, they would have needed rowboats to get out of their subdivisions, the residents were told.

Angelotti recommended that the village start a program to disconnect any illegal sump pumps that are discharging into the sanitary sewer. He said that excessive storm water is being pushed into the sewer, causing backups.

IN OTHER ACTION the village board dealt with two zoning questions.

The petition to rezone the CCD landfill property from light industry to heavy industry will be studied by the board with action called for in 30 days.

The trustees have been asked to read more than 200 pages of testimony taken at two days of hearings on the petition.

Also, the planning and zoning committee of the village board will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young to discuss their zoning petition.

The Youngs are seeking to have their approximately four acres, adjacent to Williams Park, rezoned from single family to a type of zoning that would permit 22 housing units per acre.

The planning and zoning committee will discuss this density question with the Youngs and their attorney, and also ponder the possibility of having the village buy the property for park use.

THE HIGH SCHOOL has asked the village to consider cooperating in the construction of new tennis courts. Kenneth

Grass Lake Vote Urged

Passage of the June 8 Grass Lake School referendum has been urged by Supt. William Hart.

The referendum will be for the purpose of raising the educational fund 45 cents.

Mr. Hart said that passage is important to the future of the school and its students.

Every attempt at budget control has been utilized since 1966, when the present educational rate of 1.04 was approved, he said. He pointed to increases in the number of students, material and operating costs, number of staff, and inflation as reason why 1966 rates have made it impossible to maintain present programs.

AT ITS regular April Meeting, the school retained Mr.

William Nauman as treasurer, beginning July 1.

Mrs. Helen Nelson is retiring after 22 years as the school's treasurer.

The Board also approved a summer activity program under the direction of Robert Van Doran and Miss Pam Friedrich. A survey questionnaire sent to parents strongly favored such a program for children.

The eighth grade graduation will be held on Tuesday, June 4, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Bette Meyer, a member of the Antioch High School Board, will be the guest speaker.

The valedictorian of the 1974 class is Karen Cerk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cerk.

Neil Fossum is the class salutatorian and will deliver the farewell address. Honor students to be recognized for high academic work are:

Lori Carrubba, LuAnn Wilson, Gina Calonder, and Kelly Kiemle.

Memorial Day Events Planned

Memorial Day parades are planned in Antioch and Lake Villa on Sunday.

On Sunday, the marchers will step off from Antioch High School at 2:30 p.m.

Participating will be the American Legion Drill Team and Color Guard, the Post 748 Women's Auxiliary, the High School Band and Color Guard, Boy and Girl Scout troops, the Rescue Squad and Fire Department, and the Model A Automobile Club.

Ceremonies will follow the parade in the park on Orchard and Broadway. State Rep. W.J. Murphy, R-Antioch, will be the speaker.

LAKE VILLA'S PARADE begins Sunday at 1 p.m. at Pleviak School.

Both the Lake Villa and Antioch village halls will be

Do tranquilizers lose their strength or change after a year? -- R.M.

They probably don't change much in a year, but you may have. One of the worst things in the world for you to do is go back into the medicine cabinet and sample old prescriptions. If you need help, go back to your doctor and let him decide whether you need a tranquilizer or something else.

Can you recommend some good books on folk medicine? -- L.H.

You can buy "Folk Medicine" by D.C. Jarvis, M.D., in paperback; a hardcover book called "Of Men and Plants" or the very popular "Foxfire" books in paperback. I recommend the Foxfire books, not only for their content, but for the unique way in which they came about. Read them.

How many kinds of penicillin are there? -- J.A.

There are at least a dozen different variations of penicillin. For example: benzathine penicillin G, phenoxymethyl penicillin, and potassium penicillin G. This does not include the brands of penicillin in which manufacturers duplicate the same variation.

What drugs are used to treat high blood pressure? -- J.T.

General classes of drugs used to treat hypertension are: 1. derivatives of the plant Rauwolfia serpentina (Indian snake root); 2. diuretics (drugs that increase urinary flow); 3. ganglionic blocking agents; 4. miscellaneous which include methyldopa, guanethidine, and hydralazine.

Seek Funds To Clean Up Lakes

The Chain O' Lakes Study Commission has decided to ask the General Assembly for $245,000 to deal with flooding pollution and ecological problems.

The group met Friday and decided to seek $75,000 to begin dredging operations immediately in the Chain O' Lakes.

They also voted unanimously to request $170,000 for an ecology study, the holding of public hearings, other necessary planning and the perpetuation of the commission itself.

The commission was created by House Majority Whip W.J. Murphy, R-Antioch, and it was designed to exist only until July 1. But there is more work to be done, and if the General Assembly agrees to extend the life of the commission the group may change its name and its scope, as well.

It probably would be called the Chain O' Lakes and Fox River Commission, and extend its operation to include an area from McHenry to Algonquin that has similar water problems affecting boating, fishing and ecology.

Bill Brook, Antioch banker who was chosen recently to head the Chain O' Lakes Commission, repeated this week that, "It's time to get some action."

"There will be a continuing study of the problems," he said, "But we also have to get some things done in this area."

"We will be going to Springfield, perhaps on June 2, and will try to get an appointment with Gov. Dan Walker to discuss the problems with him."

FROM THE MILWAUKEE SENTINEL

'Cool It'

Stepping forcefully into the maelstrom caused by President Nixon's release of edited tape transcripts, top Democratic leaders of Congress have called for an end to the irresponsible, moblike cries for resignation that the transcripts have precipitated.

In short, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and House Speaker Carl Albert have told the overzealous advocates of resignation to calm down or else so fan the firestorms of public opinion that the office of the presidency and our concept of democracy will be forever damaged.

"Resignation is not the answer," Mansfield said. "This is a time to keep cool — the expression, I believe, is 'cool it.'"

Calling a presidential resignation under political pressure "disastrous," Albert pointed out that resignation under fire with a subsequent showing of innocence "would result in irreparable harm to the country."

The Constitution provides the democratic machinery for a proper forum to judge a president's performance in office.

That document and the impeachment process it establishes are the only things that stand between conclusions based on evidence and the drumming of a president out of office without the benefit of a fair trial based on the presumption of innocence until guilt is proved.

Those who fear a tearing asunder of the country during an arduous impeachment process have little knowledge of how this country endured mindbending social and political upheavals in the past.

The nation has withstood the most divisive war in its history and has survived through a decade of political assassination and social unrest.

The country is certainly strong enough, then, to withstand the functioning of its own Constitution.

To shortcut that process by resignation would be to deliver a devastating uppercut to the stability of the office and the Constitution.

President Nixon has made it abundantly clear that he does not intend to resign and will take his case "constitutionally down to the wire."

More congressional leaders of both parties must now step forward, put political considerations aside and urge restraint in what obviously has to be an issue with partisan overtones.

The White House, too, must co-operate in making information available to speed the impeachment inquiry.

Americans want all the facts to come out, not only for now, but for history.

Circumventing the constitutional process now will exact a higher price on the nation in the future. It is a price too high to pay.

Ask the Governor

DAN WALKER

Q. What is being done to further the education of residents of corrections facilities in Illinois?

A. Education of residents is the full-time responsibility of the Superintendent of School District Number 428 and his staff. The district operates within the state Department of Corrections.

Special school districts within corrections departments also exist in five other states. But in no other state does a corrections department school district have the authority and scope that were given District Number 428 when it was created in 1972.

This district determines education needs, types of schools (elementary, secondary, adult, vocational, special) and curriculum in all state correction facilities.

The two-fold philosophy guiding the school district is: 1) all persons should have the opportunity for a full education even if imprisoned and 2) learning will take place only when a student becomes motivated to learn.

The school district staff is recommending that education become a higher priority in the correction facilities than in the past—that wardens and their staff encourage more residents to participate, increase the amount of study and class time, and allow residents to take part in a combination of education, vocational courses and the prison industry, rather than choosing only one assignment.

To help residents develop basic reading, communication and math skills, learning laboratories have been installed in five institutions, with labs planned for four others. These permit individual instruction, necessary because of the range of education backgrounds, and will eventually make it possible to discontinue the typical classroom situation for at least grades one through seven. Better libraries and audio-visual services are also being planned.

To help residents understand themselves and others, the district has already begun to strengthen its guidance centers by hiring professional vocational counselors, and plans to hire educational counselors. Certified teachers are being hired to replace inmates and guards who have been serving as instructors.

To help residents develop skills useful in obtaining employment, the school district is considering contracting with community colleges to teach vocational and technical skills. This is now being done on a small scale in some institutions.

The school district plans to establish a pilot program to determine the feasibility of conducting high school credit courses including courses leading to a high school diploma. Currently elementary courses are geared toward GED (General Educational Development) preparation, equivalent to course-work through the tenth grade. This does not meet the needs of inmates without high school diplomas who have already excelled beyond the tenth grade.

Higher education will not be overlooked by the district. Courses at a few junior colleges and universities are available to residents, however, few institutions will grant degrees. Lewis College and Southern Illinois University are the exceptions. The district will be working with institutions of higher learning to make associate and baccalaureate degrees available in as many correction facilities as possible.

What would you like to know about state government? Gov. Dan Walker welcomes your questions. Some, with the answers, may appear in this column. Letters must give the writer's name and address. Upon request your name will be withheld. Send to: ASK THE GOVERNOR, Illinois Information Service, 201 W. Monroe St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

The largest bell ever cast is the Czar Kolokol at Moscow. It weighed about 200 tons when it was cast in 1733. Yet it has never been rung!

From Our Readers

Dear Editor:

"The shortest distance between two points is a straight line" no longer describes a road I frequently drive in Antioch because it has become indescribable! The usual adjectives, "chuck holes, ruts, and pot holes" no longer suffice as McMillen Road has become patches between holes "too numerous to mention."

If one travels this area at more than 10 MPH he takes his shock absorbers in his hands as he has to weave about to find road under his tires. And if it rains...the standing water not only covers the road, camouflaging the holes, it adds driving hazard by wetting car brakes.

Commerce and industry not only add to a community by providing jobs, they greatly assist the taxpayer in helping to relieve this tax burden.

It seems our community is physically trying to discourage industry by providing its worst streets throughout its industrial areas. Where there are curbs, they're overgrown or beneath gravel. Access to the street, therefore, is just about anywhere one drives from a parking area to the street, providing a traffic hazard.

Why can't the village become civic-minded beyond beautifying Lake and Main Streets? Why not provide: 1) A paved industrial area; 2) Curbs with gutters with adequate drainage for at least a rainstorm, and 3) Sidewalks for pedestrians?

Why skimp? Let's reciprocate with our businesses and give them something in return for their tax dollars. Then we will have another are we can point to with "Civic pride."

Sincerely,
Questioning Citizen

'Brevity Is the Soul of Wit.' — Shakespeare

By JERRY PFARR

Some of the world's best literature has been written for newspapers.

The reason Shakespeare, Hemingway and Zane Grey never made it to the top is because they were too wordy.

Any of the great books can be improved merely by condensing them to three paragraphs. Take the first paragraph, the last paragraph and one from the middle and you get the author's message.

The rest is just padding. (Those guys get paid by the word, you know.)

The secret is to select the right paragraph from the middle. It takes a little practice, but after a while you seize it without difficulty. (Most books automatically fall open to the page that contains the all-important message.)

FOR EXAMPLE, suppose Shakespeare walked into the office and handed his story to a rewrite man. It might come out in the newspaper something like this:

Hamlet, Prince
Of Denmark, Dies
By WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE

Bernardo: Who's there?
Hamlet: To be, or not to be;
that is the question.
Horatio: Go, bid the soldiers shoot.

NOTICE HOW the story suddenly takes on new impact? If Shakespeare could have kept it down to three paragraphs he could have (1) increased his readership, and (2) got himself a job on a newspaper.

Margaret Mitchell walks into the newsroom. She has just finished working hard on what she thinks is a pretty good yarn.

The copy editor takes out his pencil:

Tara Reported
Gone With The Wind

(no byline)

"Scarlett O'Hara was not beautiful, but men seldom realized it when caught by her charm..."

"Frankly, Scarlett, I don't give a damn."

"I'll think of it all tomorrow, at Tara. I can stand it then...After all, tomorrow is another day."

Here comes another manuscript with 1,370 pages. It's been called the greatest novel ever written but doesn't necessarily claim the most finishers. Maybe it needs a good editing job:

War and Peace Seen

By LEO TOLSTOY

"Well, Prince, so Genoa and Lucca are now just family estates of the Buonapartes."

"Horses and men were lying in pools of blood. Neither Napoleon or any of his generals had ever before seen such horrors."

"But why go to Petersburg?" Natasha suddenly asked, and hastily replied to her own question. "But no, no, he must... Yes, Mary. He must..."

I'll admit that doesn't make much sense, but look at the time you saved.

The Berbers of Morocco believed ashes would prevent hair from falling out.

NEW SCHOOL FRIENDS -- Baby chicks were hatching in the second grade classroom at the Antioch Grade School last week. Delighted with the

Grade Schoolers Hatch Chicks

It looked a little bit like Easter at the Antioch Grade School last week.

The second grade pupils in Mrs. Barbara Spillner's room were all excited about the presence of a bunch of new-born baby chicks.

It was part of a science project. The class had waited 21 days for the eggs to hatch in an incubator that had been carefully kept warm by the pupils.

"I'm so excited," wrote one of the little girls in a paper for her teacher. "We have 24 chicken eggs and two duck eggs."

Then on Thursday the chickens began hatching.

"Two of the chicks hatched," a girl wrote. "And they are so fuzzy. I like them very much. And there are more pecking out of their shells. Their legs are orange."

"Thir are two that came out," wrote another pupil, better at science than spelling. "Thir is one boy and one girl. I like both of them. The girl pecked on the boy."

The science project was teaching the children something about life.

New Art Course

Students are invited to join a new course being offered by the Art division of the Fine Arts department. Jane Craner, instructor, describes the course as both fun and a contribution to the community.

The major project of the course will be the painting of murals on the buildings surrounding the new park to be located in downtown Antioch. Participants in the program will not only have fun, make a contribution to the community, but will receive full credit for its course.

Any student interested in the new program should register at the high school or see Mrs. Craner for more information.

Channel Lake Chatter

The Channel Lake PTA held its annual Fun Fair recently in the school gym.

The children attending had a great time playing the many games and winning prizes and also filling up on hot dogs, potato chips, chocolate and strawberry sundaes, plus several different flavors of soda pop.

Every hour several names were drawn from a hat for the special door prizes. These prizes were purchased from the donations made by our local businessmen and parents.

The artistic ability of Faye Anderson was evident in the dart throwing booth as Faye had sketched in charcoal, the pictures of Mrs. Lemke, Mrs. Grover and Mrs. Leland for the targets.

Mary Jo Zeien was chairman of the event and she and her committee did a fantastic job. Mary Jo would like to thank everyone that baked for the bake sale and worked in the booths and the kitchen.

The Channel Lake PTA has installed new officers for the coming year. Those installed were Louise Gutowski, president; Kathy Behrens, vice president; Marge Marsh, secretary; and Donna De Witt, treasurer.

A short buzz session followed the installation. Refreshments were served by the 5th grade mothers.

TWO OF OUR local families enjoyed spring vacation journeys to Florida. Ken and Faye Anderson and children, Kenny and Heidi, spent two weeks visiting Ken's parents, the Donald Anderson's and his sister Jean Cooper and family.

The senior Anderson's are former Antioch residents and enjoy the Antioch News every week. Of course the Anderson's vacation included a trip to Disney World. The children are still talking about it.

The Bob Gossman family also motored to Disney World during their Easter vacation. Now Bob, Judy and children, Bob, Ron, Joy, Jody and Ricky, are looking forward to a warm summer so they can enjoy the new swimming pool in their backyard.

Pat Hucker is now home recuperating after having surgery at Victory Memorial Hospital. While Pat was hospitalized her mother, Mrs. Koziel, suffered a stroke and is now a patient in the same hospital.

Also on the disabled list, recovering from lung surgery at Victory Memorial is Elmer "Bud" Rudolph. I'm sure some cards would be very welcome from all their many friends.

FORMER RESIDENTS Mike and Pat Hruby and children were in our area over the weekend. Along with Pat's mother, Mrs. Peg Strattan, they were in town to attend the wedding of their daughter and sister, Davelle Strattan. Final Exams Can Be Frightening

Final exam week on any college campus can be a grim ordeal to those facing the last minute countdown to grade success or failure.

When College of Lake County instructor Lyman Wilmot arrived to distribute final exams to his calculus class, he cut the tension with his execution-style garb.

Sensational Race at Waukegan

Bob Roper pulled a sensational last-lap move to pass Tom Jones and win the late model super stock feature Sunday night at the Waukegan Speedway. Roper took third in the 27th lap and passed Jones in the 4th turn of the last lap.

It was a divided decision by the crowd as earlier Jones and Roper tangled in the final lap of the 12-lap semi-feature with Don Marmor slipping through the win. These two missed time trials having run in the Prairie State 150 that afternoon.

Rich Sundling gunned his '72 Chevelle into the lead at the green flag and set a torrid pace with Jones second by the 4th

Trackmen Qualify For State Finals

Two Antioch High School track and field stars turned in sparkling performances last Friday to earn spots in this weekend's state finals at Charleston.

Sprinter Mike Jones and high jumper Vic McGuire were among the standouts in the district meet at Mount Prospect.

Jones, who had been running the 100 in 10.6 and 10.7 seconds this season, suddenly burst loose with a 10.1 performance to beat the other dashmen to the tape. Then he came back to win the 220.

Jones said he was really

"psyched up" for the district meet and seems to be rounding into top shape just as the season reaches its climax. He is only a junior.

McGuire, a star high jumper all season with his tricky "flop" method, was second at Mount Prospect and figures to place high in the state finals too.

Coach Jerry Sandberg of Antioch also was proud of his 880 relay team, which was clocked in 1:32.5 at Mount Prospect. The quartet of Bob Bailey, Ron Gramer, Jones and Mark Andrews failed by only a half-second to qualify for the state.

The Sequoits were the best of seven Lake County teams in the 28-team district meet. They piled up 22 points to finish an impressive fifth. Maine West won the meet with 43 1/2 points.

WAUKEGAN -- Thousands of dollars worth of prizes will be up for grabs this spring at COHO '74, one of Lake Michigan's largest salmon and trout contests.

The nine-day fishing derby, set for June 1-9, is sponsored by Salmon Unlimited.

Honor Basketball Team

Members of the Antioch High School conference championship basketball team, coaches and cheerleaders will attend an athletic banquet as guests of the State Bank of Antioch on Monday, June 3, 7 p.m. at Lorenz's Country House.

The public is invited to attend. Tickets at $5.50 per person are available at the State Bank and the high school and can be purchased up to June 1.

TYRONE WALLS, a 1968 graduate of ACHS, will be the guest speaker. Ty is currently playing tight end for Edmonton, Alberta, in the Canadian Football League. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri, starring in football.

In the years he attended ACHS, he was an all-around athlete, outstanding in football, basketball and track, achieving the goal of All-State in both basketball and football.

During the 1973-74 basketball season, the Antioch Sequoit varsity team compiled an outstanding record of 22 wins and only 6 losses. During the season, the Sequoits had a 12-game winning streak.

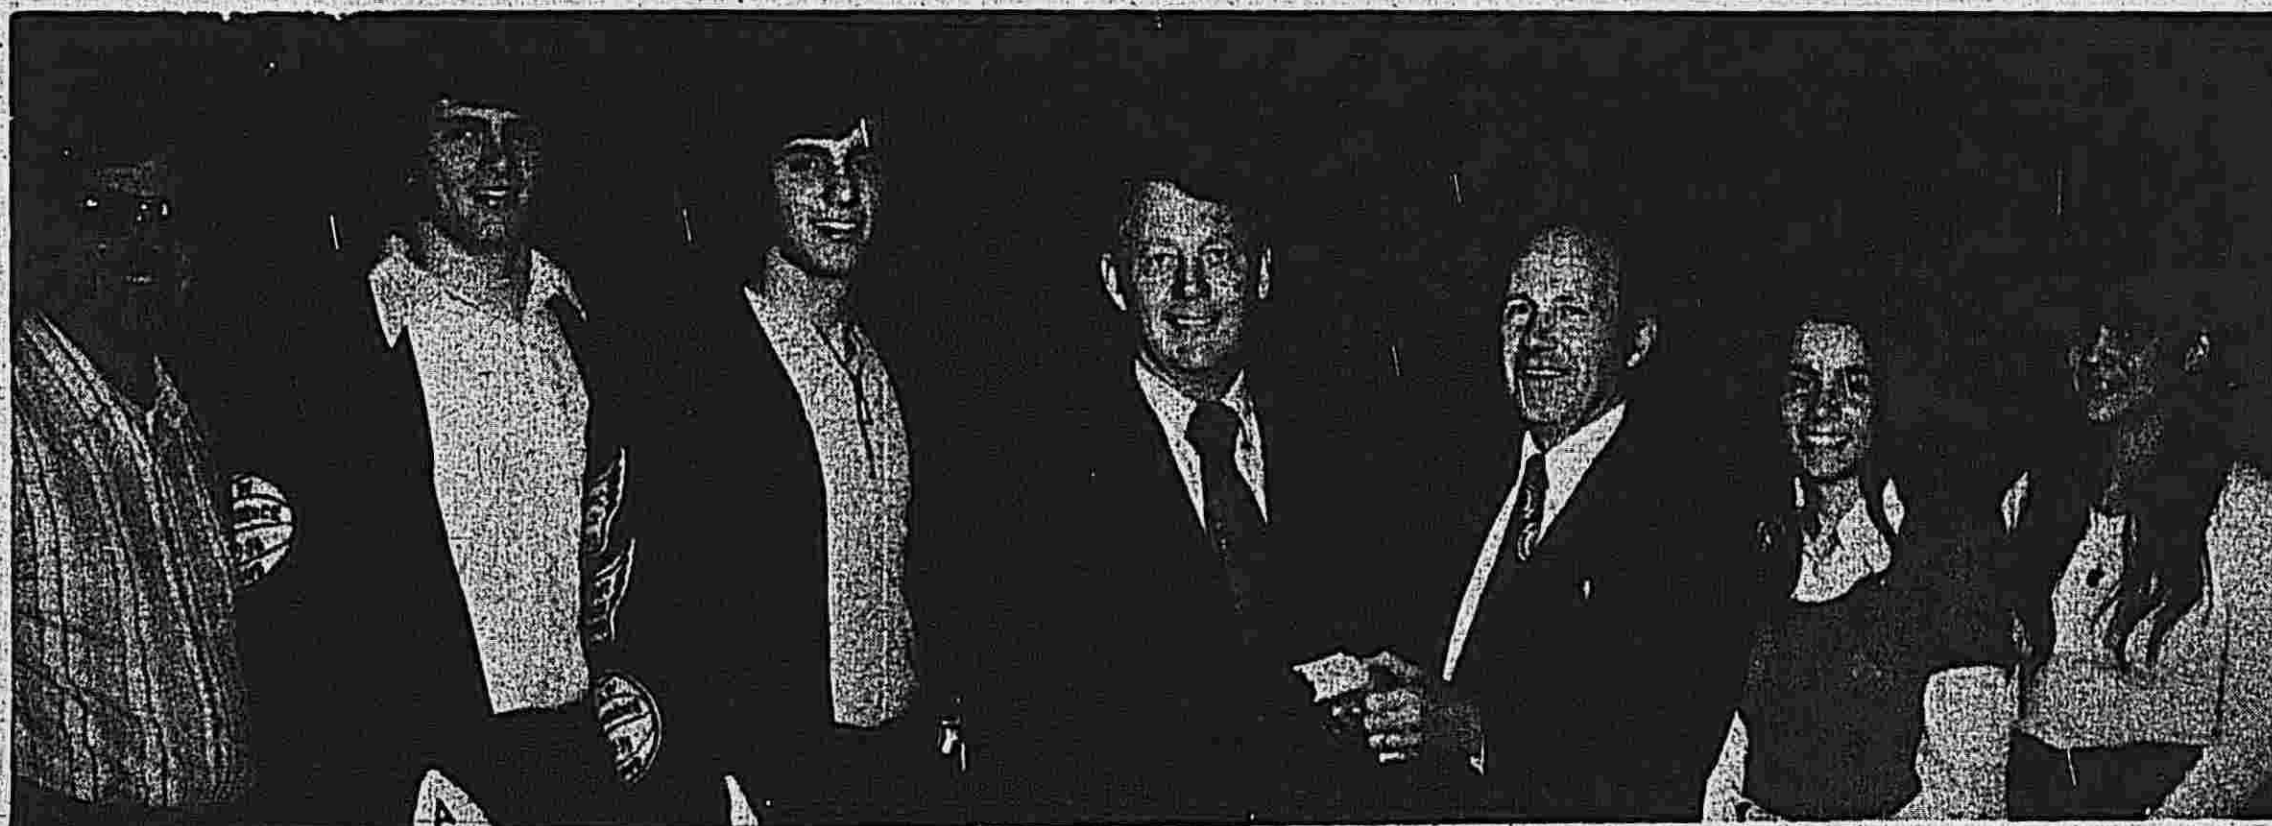

At the Barrington Thanksgiving Tournament, the Sequoits won for the third straight year.

In the Christmas tournament at Rockford, the team again played outstanding basketball and captured fourth place in a field of 16 teams.

HERE AT HOME, in the conference play, the Sequoits showed their class by winning the title with a record of 13-0. It has been 7 years since a conference team has gone undefeated (this was an Antioch team with a record of 14-0, of which Tyrone Walls was a member).

As State Tournament play started, the Sequoits continued to roll, beating Woodstock and Grant to win the McHenry Regional. This was only the second Regional Tournament in the school's history.

Sequoits Lose In Tournament

The Sequoits dropped out of tournament play after a loss to the Round Lake Panthers by a score of 2-0.

Mike Gutowski pitched a great game, but the lack of hitting, and too many errors at key times contributed to the Sequoit loss.

Round Lake scored runs on hits and errors in the first and sixth innings.

The Sequoits only action came in the sixth inning. With one out Mike Perrone and Rich Sedar walked putting men on first and second. Russ Albano singled advancing the runners and loading the bases. Then with two strike outs, the Sequoits rally was ended.

2 Race Cards at Wilmot

Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmot will run on two different nights over the holiday weekend.

On Saturday the Interstates Racing Association will hold a "Holiday 30 Lap Feature" race for the super modified division. Dick Duston of Greenfield will head the field of 40 cars that compete. Duston is the 1973 Wilmot champion and once again is in running for the point lead.

Besides Duston the field will include Aaron Solsrud and Dick Colburn. Colburn already has won a feature race this season. He is a newcomer here after running on the Milwaukee circuit for many seasons.

RAY DOBBS of Oconomowoc, Wis., is the point leader in sportsman racing. Gordy Mudlaff is only 13 points behind and has won two features this season. Sid and Duke Norton of McHenry, Ill., are in contention. Duke has had "fast time" every night so far this season.

On Monday night the Wilmot track will host a special late model program. This will be the first time since 1968 that late models have been on the track. Drivers are coming from other tracks -- Hales Corners in Wisconsin and Kankakee and Sycamore in Illinois.

Jim Cossman of Zion will lead the field of cars trying the new one-third mile clay oval. In addition to the race program a demo-derby has been scheduled with a $100 purse.

Jim Cossman of Zion will head the field of cars trying the new one-third mile clay oval. In addition to the race program a demo-derby has been scheduled with a $100 purse. The Antioch Auto Center will challenge all others in this event.

Jack Ester of Antioch will be competing on the Wilmot track this weekend, driving a 1969 Camaro.

The track is just north of Antioch -- four miles west of Hy. 83 on County Trunk C. Time trials begin at 6:45 p.m. and racing at 8 o'clock both nights.

THE INTERSTATES Racing Association has announced that it will require all cars racing on its tracks to run with a silencer.

The decision was made because of the concern by environmentalists for a safer sound level.

Antioch Player MVP

Kevin O'Neill of Antioch has been named most valuable player on the University of Dubuque baseball team.

O'Neill led the team in hitting with a batting average of .442. He had six runs-batted-in, led the team in doubles with five, and in runs scored with 15.

Kevin also had seven stolen bases, over half of his team's total.

Coach Rich Solomon said that O'Neill had one of the best attitudes of any player he has ever coached.

The Dubuque Spartans finished strong to end their season with a 13-20 record. They won seven of their last 10 games.

O'Neill was a senior this year. He is the son of Mrs. Catherine O'Neill, 322 Cedarwood Lane, Antioch.

Two Senior scouts, Louise Levasseur of Libertyville and Colleen Graham of Waukegan were also elected to the board. Vera Small of Libertyville, Grant Spong of Antioch, and Harrison Williams of Waukegan were re-elected for a second term.

New faces on the board will be Rev. Richard Hunt of Gurnee, Dorothy Seibert of Fox Lake, Constance Taylor of North

Chicago and Rosanne Kapheim of Waukegan.

Mrs. Seibert, Mrs. Taylor, and Mrs. Kapheim have been active in Girl Scouting in other capacities for several years. Rev. Richard Hunt, pastor of Gurnee Community Church, is a newcomer to Girl Scouting but actively interested in youth. Jean Mellblom of Libertyville was chairman of the nominating committee that prepared the slate.

Justine Lionberger, president of the council made a report outlining some of the gains that had been made in the past year. Project Community Vision, a plan to provide scouting to all interested girls in southern Waukegan and North Chicago, is actively proceeding.

The Town Crier

Hear ye!

Our friend Doug Larson writes to tell us that you have to give the President credit for using expletives when other people might have used strong language.

He also says that President Nixon might resign if it weren't so difficult to get another job in the same field.

I had some visitors from another city last week but they haven't showed up yet. I hear they're down at the corner of Main and Lake waiting for the WALK light to flash on.

DICK WITT of State Farm Insurance is back from his week in Paris.

Says it reminds him of New York City -- apartments, apartments, apartments!

One of our treasured readers offers this beautiful one-liner:

"Happiest families are those in which children are evenly spaced -- about 10 feet apart.

Boy, I'm telling you, those Boston-Style sodas at the Vault restaurant are something else.

Incidentally, Taso, down at the restaurant, tells me that he has a big vault door -- from the old bank -- which he is going to put on the east wall of the building as a decoration. Sounds sharp.

I HOPE YOU'RE ready for this one:

A friend of our tells about the salesman, flying to the coast, who struck up a conversation with the elderly man seated next to him.

It was the older man's first flight and he told the salesman he was celebrating his 92nd birthday.

"How come you're flying to Los Angeles?" the salesman asked.

"I'm going to my dad's wedding," he replied. "Just think -- my father is 119 years old."

The salesman, with a bit of a smirk on his face asked why a man that old would want to get married.

"He doesn't want to," the man said. "He has to."

WITH ALL the money the government spends you'd think the White House could have afforded a tape recorder that worked right.

If all the cars in the country were placed end to end somebody would be pulling out to pass.

And remember, the worst way to meet you new neighbor across the street is when you're both backing out of the driveway.

Hear ye!

lap. Meanwhile Roper, last week's winner, had a tough time working his way through the field finally taking third spot from Dave Evans at the halfway point.

Jones moved past Sundling in the 20th lap but Sundling fought back nearly passing Jones during the next several laps before Roper came into the picture.

The chilled crowd came to their feet in the final laps as Roper breezed by Sundling and caught Jones at the white flag. The final lap was run side-by-side with Roper getting the win over Jones. Third spot went to Sundling and then came Evans, Bob Dotter and Marmor.

Promoter Gordon Sill announced a 50-lap Memorial Day race to be run for the late model super stocks next Sunday night. Ray Young, who was sidelined with a blown engine, is expected back for that one.

Bob Dotter was the night's fastest qualifier with a :14.95 lap and also won the trophy dash. Lee Tibbets of Hebron and Sundling won the late model heats.

In the hobby class Don Smith won two races and Scott Stackhouse was the winner in the other race.

Choral Group Performs

The Girls Chorus of the Grass Lake School, under the direction of Mrs. Ruth McKenzie, traveled to the Hillcrest Nursing Home in Round Lake, and the Lake Villa Nursing Home in Lake Villa last week.

Their program selections included: Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head, It's a Small World, Scarborough Fair, Singing-on-a-Rainbow, and a medley from "Oliver."

The chorus also presented selected songs at the Grass Lake School PTO meeting on Monday.

Moose Lodge Celebrates

The Antioch Moose Lodge had a birthday Monday. It was a quarter of a century old.

To commemorate the event, there will be a dinner dance on Saturday to honor the charter members who still belong to the Moose.

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m., followed by dancing to the music of Art Smejka's band. Only 150 tickets are being sold.

GARDEN CLUB

The Antioch Garden Club will hold their regular meeting on Monday, May 27 at 12:30 p.m. in the First National Bank Community Room.

The Faces of Evie

Death of a Siren

By EVALYN ROZEK

They say that beauty is merely a state of mind. That, if a gal thinks pretty and acts pretty, she will somehow, miraculously wind up BEING pretty.

This has always made good sense to me. I have been thinking pretty -- with all my might -- ever since the age of 12, when I attended the movie "The Prince Who Was a Thief," fell out of love with Trigger and in love with an up-an-coming actor by the name of Tony Curtis.

No one, mind you, has ever been rash enough to label me as "beautiful." (No one with honorable intentions, anyway.) But, up until one day last October, I had every reason under the sun to believe that my face could at least pass for "pretty."

Then I got my first pair of glasses.

Picture, if you will, an Indian Summer afternoon. The sky is so brilliant, the leaves so colorful, that I decide to drop off my children at a nearby park while I walk to the optician's office.

Maybe it's the weather, maybe it's the wind in my hair, maybe it's the position of the planet Mercury, I don't know. What I do know is that the lady is having one of her better days and is apparently sending out all kinds of signals. Truck drivers gape. A well-dressed businessman smiles and tips his hat. Workmen whistle in the time-honored tradition.

The lady, in case you haven't guessed, is lapping it up like honey.

"Now these will take some getting used to," cautions the optician as he slips the glasses on to my eager face. "We had to fit you with quite a strong prescription." Then he hands me a mirror and hurries away.

Omydeargod.

Is that me? Me??? Have 20 years of "thinking pretty" brought me to this unfortunate end?

What am I doing with Barbra Streisand's nose? When did my hair begin to go grey?

I blink and look again. Either I've been munching on steel wool or else that's a 5 o'clock shadow above my lip.

And my skin! I knew I had an enlarged pore or two, but this? This looks like a relief map of the Sea of Tranquility!

Miserable, I stumble from the room, thinking that if I were a puppy dog, my tail would surely be tucked between my legs.

Did I say legs? I have no legs. Not only have the glasses rendered me instantly ugly, they have also brought the sidewalk up to my waistline. The femme fatale who was once 5'7" and proud of it now feels like a midget trudging through a ditch.

Traffic lights lean at a crazy angle. I have to get on my hands and knees to make it down the curb.

Worst of all, the wolf whistles have ceased.

Back at the park, my older son looks at me and inquires soberly, "Is there a rubber nose attached to those glasses?"

Well, that's the sad story. Time and love have made me attractive once again to my children. My husband, to the best of my knowledge, is not going to sue for divorce.

But what of the Sensuous Mommy? Where has she gone to? Never again will she flounce, bounce, flirt, giggle or slink.

I tell you, it's rough, making it on character alone. It's something I never worried about back when I was a sex symbol.

'Hindsight's Better Than Foresight'

By Father Keusal

The leap of faith that a Christian takes is one of total commitment. The Christian is one who tries to respond with his full being. The Christian's response to his God is total and complete.

The Christian is like the man who had a dream that he was walking on the edge of a mountain when he slipped and was falling to his death. The man prayed begging God to save him "Have mercy on me God. Don't let me die, please save me. My Lord and My God save me from this death."

As he fell, the man put his hand out and grabbed a branch growing from the side of the mountain. He was able to stop his fall, he prayed again. "Thank you God, Thank you. You saved my life. I'm ever grateful, I can't thank you enough, ask me anything and I will do it. Whatever you ask I will do."

A voice then came from the heavens - a simple direct request "let go" —

This is the commitment that a Christian tries to make to his God, a commitment of total and complete trust. The risk of "letting go" involves an incomparable trust. It includes the total dependence and belief that the will of God is the most direct road to the goal and fulfillment of life.

The paradox of all this is the same as in the Pascal Mystery - the death, resurrection - of Jesus Christ. He is the example in doing the will of the Father - "even unto death." He conquered death and rose from it to new life - a life that can know only happiness. And that happiness is meant not only in the next life, but in this life on the road to the goal that the Christian has committed himself.

Evangelistic Crusade Set

"Fishers of Men" is the theme of an evangelistic crusade announced by Pastor J.W. Griffus to begin Wednesday, May 29, at the Church of God of Prophecy, 254 Ida Ave.

Pastor Griffus said the crusade is part of an effort to reach 100,000 souls this year in a world-wide revival being launched by the Evangelism Department of the Church of God of Prophecy, with world headquarters in Cleveland, Tenn.

Director Elwood Matthews said that a positive and energetic endeavor will be made on local, state, and national levels to reach souls for Christ and to establish them in the principles of Christian living.

April 14 to June 2 are the dates.

Thank You

We wish to express our gratitude to our many friends, The Antioch Rescue Squad, and especially Reverend Williams for their thoughtfulness and prayers for our little Julie Ann. Julie is home with us now and is doing nicely.

It's Little League Season!

"PLAY BALL!" was the command, and they did! Kurt Selak fired a fast ball and Tommy Poulos stepped back on this one. The catcher is Glenn Samson and the umpire Lee Mieux.

CARRYING OUT THE BANNER for the season-opening ceremonies Sunday were Danny Johnson (left) of the State Bank Tigers and Lester Zitkus of Walsh's All Seasons Orioles.

Barnstables Adds to Antioch's New Look

Remodeling at Barnstables department store has given the attractiveness of Antioch's downtown area another boost.

A new stucco and stone front has been put on the building and that motif is being continued to improve the appearance of the south side of the store.

New signs are being planned and the village is planning to re-blacktop the parking lot.

Inside the store, interior remodeling is continuing.

The owners, Donald Robert Peterson and his wife, Nellie Louise are proud of the fact that Barnstables is Antioch's oldest, continually-operated, retail family clothing store.

Their building at 945 Main St. was constructed in 1948. Russell

Barnstable moved his store into the building late in 1957.

Mr. Peterson, originally from Racine, represented Farah Manufacturing Co. and sold men's and boys' slacks to Mr. Barnstable for 10 years. He had been a manufacturer's representative for 22 years before buying the business from Mr. Barnstable about two and a half years ago.

The theme of the store's present remodeling sale promotion is "Growth With Antioch."

"We are thanking the shoppers of Antioch for our acceptance as new owners of Barnstables," Mr. Peterson said. "We're emphasizing that we're growing with Antioch. While the Chamber of Commerce and the village board have been working on beautification programs, we too have been updating and improving our property, and growing with Antioch."

Kenosha County Parks Set Fees

Beginning Saturday entry fees will be charged Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, through Monday, Sept. 2, at all Kenosha County Parks.

Park Director Richard Lindl said that persons who use the parks frequently are urged to purchase season permits for their cars. Permits are $3 for residents and $10 for non-residents.

The daily entry fee will be $1 per car or motorcycle, 25 cents for bicycles or persons walking in and $10 per bus.

Season permits can be obtained at the offices of the Kenosha County Clerk, the Kenosha County Park Office, 761 Green Bay Rd. or from the Pleasant Prairie, Somers Bristol and Randall town clerks. Also the Paddock Lake and Twin Lakes village clerks. They will not be available at any of the park entrances.

The park entry fee is not required for the county park golf courses.

Tryouts

Tryouts and an organizational meeting for Antioch American Legion baseball will be held Saturday, June 1, rain or shine, at 3:30 p.m.

The session will be at the high school field. All interested young men are invited.
